

THANKS TO WESTERN BIRDS' REVIEWERS AND ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Peer review is a critical step in the publication of a scientific journal. I thank the following people for their generosity in taking the time to provide this essential service sustaining the scientific quality of Western Birds for volume 47: Dan Anderson, Kurt E. Anderson, James Bailey, Lance Benner, Christopher J. Clark, William S. Clark, David Craig, R. W. R. J. Dekker, Stephen J. Dinsmore, Rob Doster, James and Patricia Duncan, Jon L. Dunn*, Richard A. Erickson, Douglas W. Faulkner*, Kimball L. Garrett*, Rich Glinski, Richard T. Golightly, Steven C. Heinl, Paul Hess, Adam Hutchings, Robert S. A. Kaler, David J. Krueper, Barbara E. Kus, Allison L. Lansverk, Paul E. Lehman*, Steve B. Lewis, Michael Long, Peter Lowther, Jeff Marks, Ron Martin, Chet McGaugh, Carol L. McIntyre, Kathy C. Molina, Brian Myers, Klaus Malling Olsen, Chris Olson, Allison Patterson, Brian D. Peer, Larkin Powell, Peter Pyle*, David E. Quady, Spencer Sealy, John Sterling, Scott Terrill, Bill Tweit, Nils Warnock, Mary Whitfield, Karen Wiebe, R. Haven Wiley, Jack J. Withrow*, and Christopher C. Witt*. Asterisks designate reviewers who reviewed more than one paper.

In addition our associate editors, Kenneth P. Able, Matthew J. Baumann, Daniel S. Cooper, Thomas Gardali, Daniel D. Gibson, Robert E. Gill, Ronald R. LeValley, and Dan Reinking, and Daniel R. Ruthrauff, plus featured-photo editor John Sterling, also serve as reviewers of the manuscripts whose review they coordinate, and often of additional manuscripts at the request of other associate editors. Western Birds is not possible without their teamwork and dedication. And I thank book-review editor Lauren Harter, assistant editor Dan Gibson, graphics manager Ginger Johnson, photo editor Peter LaTourrette, and webmaster/designer/typographer Tim Brittain for continuing in their roles as vital players in our team producing Western Birds.
