The journal could not function without them. Thank you as well to book review editor Catherine P. Waters, photo editor Peter LaTourrette, graphics manager Virginia P. Johnson, and assistant editor Daniel D. Gibson for their help with the myriad tasks necessary to sustain the quality of our journal. And special thanks to webmaster/designer/typographer Timothy W. The evolution of the information age imposes ever more unfunded mandates with which WFO must keep up. So I thank the members of WFO for your continuing support as we adapt on the fly.
